Gender Pay Gap Statement Notes

- As required by the relevant legislation, the data in this report refers to the statutory company PD Teesport. In this company, the significant majority of roles are operational in nature, and those roles have traditionally attracted male candidates rather than females, resulting in a naturally male-dominated workforce.
- In PD Teesport, many of the female employees have opted to work in administrative roles where earnings tend to fall below the average, as these roles often do not attract additional payments such as high-grade duties, productivity or incentive payments that roles of a more operational nature do.
- Vacancies are advertised by means, which are equally accessible to male and female candidates, yet male candidates are predominantly attracted to the operational roles.
- There is a 100% Gender Bonus Pay Gap within the PD Teesport statutory company as there are no women currently in roles which do not attract a bonus or productivity/performance related payment.
- PD Teesport focuses on promoting and developing our employees, which means that given the naturally male dominated workforce, males tend to be promoted in the operational roles, which predominate within these statutory companies.
- Ultimately, the gender pay gaps for PD Teesport do not result from paying men and women differently for the same or equivalent work, but from the different roles in which men and women are naturally attracted to and the fact that these roles attract the appropriate remuneration package for the skills, knowledge and experience specifically required for successful performance.
